

Collaborative Discussion 2 – Received Response 2 – Beran Necat

Hi Michael,

Thanks for the additional information.

The asterisk (*) in your tests are a timeout response, as no response has been received in the 5 second time limit (set by default). This is as the router from this hop didn't receive a TTL exceeded response, as it does not respond to the ICMP packet. As the next hop does display a response time it shows that the router in the previous hop does handle the traffic properly and has forwarded the traffic, showing that there is not an issue.

Regards, Beran
