

Feedback – Individual Essay – The Human Factor – Michael Geiger

The human factors that you have chosen are appropriate and well thought out. I would argue that misuse and human error do have a lot in common so it might have been useful to think of other options but this in itself is not a huge issue.

Some good critical discussion where you have clearly thought about the issues and have a good understanding of the material.

The referencing is okay but more academic sources would have been useful.

Well-presented throughout and easy to read.
