

Hi Michael,

Many thanks for submitting your e-portfolio and reflection which I have enjoyed reading through.

For your e-portfolio you needed to include:

- All artefacts (designs etc) demonstrating development over the duration of the module
- The output of the scanning and analysis tools, answers to and outputs from exercises carried out during the module, including your individual contributions to the projects.
- Your evaluation of the final project (Unit 11) vs. the design proposal (Unit 6).
- Your analysis of the data gathered, as well as your contributions to the discussion forums, showing your analytical skills.
- Reflections on your individual contributions and the teamwork process.
- A reflection of the Network and Information Security Management process based on your learnings in this module, as well as your experience as a member of a development team.

The submission was required as follows:

- create a branch of the module section in your e-portfolio.
- Submit a copy of your reflection (MS Word or pdf) to the submission portal
- include the web page address of your e-portfolio in the document, placed as the header or title of the document.

Application of knowledge and under-standing – Outstanding- DISTINCTION

You have provided an excellent demonstration of your knowledge and understanding in this submission. You have included the discussion participation, with your initial posts, summary posts, and peer responses. The selection of assessments that you have completed have also been included in your e-portfolio demonstrating the skills you have achieved during the module. You have included the scanning outputs and an evaluation of the final project vs design proposal. You have also included a clear reflection which provides good analysis of the assignments and group work elements and some points on your individual contributions.

Collaboration/ independent working - Outstanding – DISTINCTION

You have included all of your collaboration posts and analysed the teamwork in your reflection and how it has affected your approach to the various topics covered in the module. You have considered the experiences in the group and how group project issues were overcome. You have also emphasised how your knowledge has developed both individually and in terms of working in groups and explained the scanning, tools and assessments, taking a good level of ownership of your work.

Criticality – Outstanding - DISTINCTION

You have provided a very good demonstration of the work you have carried out during the module, with a reflection provided in a separate document. You have discussed the progress in your group and how you worked through the assignments and exercises. This highlights your understanding of the overall learning process. A good range of further research was utilised throughout your submissions, demonstrating very good critical analysis. You have produced a skills matrix and action plan.

Structure and Presentation - Exceptional – DISTINCTION

Overall the presentation of your e-portfolio is very nicely laid out and provides access to a range of the resources you have developed. An excellent design/look to your e-portfolio has been used. Your reflection submission is also very well organised meeting the requirements as specified.

Academic integrity - Outstanding - DISTINCTION

Your submission is very well written with the reflection submitted separately. There are no issues with the academic writing; spelling and grammar are good. You have suitably cited and referenced sources utilised in this submission
