

Feedback for RRMP Literature Review [Formative]

Thank you for submitting your formative.

You have a good and developing research list in evidence on your formative and this is an appropriate approach feeding into the summative. This sort of planning for research tends to be invaluable preparation and also gives an indication of the amount of time necessary to plan an appropriate research based assignment.

Your document is also professionally presented and again it is good to see this amount of preparation going into formative. It is perfectly acceptable at formative stage to list as well as write in paragraphs, I am just mentioning here for summative full sentences and paragraphs will be required.

Your chosen title for the summative is on the list of subjects outlined for the Literature review and so the title is appropriate.

I can see from your proposal that you have mapped out a viable research pattern to underpin your intended Literature Review summative. There is a clear step wise understanding of what needs to be researched and the context you have chosen to fulfil your Literature Review from your chosen study title, synthesised with your choice of research.

The plan looks appropriate and well thought out, my advice now is to keep the subject and context of your actual Literature Review focused and ensure that you critically evaluate the pros and cons of your chosen research so that effective debate examines both sides of your discussion. This approach eliminates any potential bias to the subject.

Good to see citation in evidence. In the actual Literature Review itself, ensure that where a fact/research is stated citation occurs.

Wishing you the best of luck now for your actual summative,

With best wishes

Karen
